SEND MEN TO EUROPE IS CRY

John Wyatt, Back From the East, Says Expedition Is Being Urged.

"The immediate sending of an American military expedition to Europe is being urged by everyone throughout the east and especially by men prominent in government affairs," said John M. Wyatt, president of the chamber of commerce, who returned Monday from a business trip to Chicago and other eastern cities. "I heard addresses of ex-servicemen of war Joseph M. Dickinson and Henry L. Stinson, and both of these men urged the immediate sending of an expedition."

No Volunteer Units Allowed. Throughout the east it is the opinion of everyone that the ranks of the army and navy should be filled at once and recruiting is going on with great vigor. It is being impressed on all young men that they should enlist at once instead of having to be drafted into the military organizations. Volunteer organizations will not be allowed by the government during the present war, according to the opinions of leading people. Instead, all recruits are being placed right in the regular army and navy. The navy is extremely active and will probably get into the war immediately.

HOWLAND DIES; SHALEM PIONEER

Bostonian Active in Colony Near Cruces Expires in El Paso Home.

Andrew M. Howland, known in the Mesilla valley and El Paso for his active connection 20 years ago with the Shalem colony, north of Las Cruces, N. M., died Tuesday morning at his home, 1919 East 11th Grande street, at 10 o'clock as the result of a protracted illness which became acute the past six weeks. The death of Mr. Howland, who was 82 years old, was a great loss to the Shalem colony. He was born in New Bedford, Mass., November 4, 1837. He was the only child of a prosperous family and was educated in Boston. When a young man he entered business in Boston as a stock broker. In 1858 he became interested in a home for homeless children founded at New Orleans by Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Newbrough. Later he moved to New Orleans, where he found a new home, called Shalem colony, near Las Cruces.

Colony Was a Model Settlement. Shalem colony, which consisted of 1000 acres which contained all the improvements known to agriculturists at that time, broke up 25 children remained. Part of them were kept at the estate and homes were found for the rest. In 1858 Mr. Howland married Mrs. J. R. Newbrough, whose husband had died some years before. Shalem colony was sold in 1860 and Mr. Howland went to California, where he remained for a year, then returned to El Paso.

He of Big Estate. Mr. Howland is one of the great-grandchildren, heirs of $125,000, which was left to him by his father, Mr. Howland was held in trust until her death by Betty H. Green, of New York, and is yet undivided, owing to discussions which arose in New England over the method of division.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. Howland, and a son, Miss A. Baxter, of New Bedford, Mass.

DR. BOLAND, BIRMINGHAM IRON MAN, DIES IN EL PASO

Dr. R. W. Boland, 65 years of age, who has been identified with the iron and steel industry in Birmingham, Ala., for 30 years, died from the effects of an apoplectic stroke in Hotel Paso del Norte at 1:30 Tuesday morning. The body will be sent to Philadelphia, Pa., tonight over the Southern Pacific, by way of New Orleans and Birmingham, accompanied by Mrs. Boland, who was with her husband at the hotel. Philadelphia was Mrs. Boland's former home.

Dr. and Mrs. Boland had arrived in the city from the east Monday evening on their way to the Pacific coast. They had stopped here frequently on similar trips during past years. About an hour after their arrival at the hotel Dr. Boland was stricken. Undertakers McLean, Simmons & Hartford have charge of the body for shipment.

Dr. Boland had a number of friends in El Paso, among them George R. Le Baron, who knew him when he lived in Birmingham 15 years ago. The doctor was president of the Birmingham Machine and Foundry company, manufacturer of sugar refining machinery and other products, but sold his interests in that business and retired recently. Several brothers survive Dr. Boland, among them Thomas Boland, of New Orleans. Deceased left no children.

GRANTS INJUNCTIONS AGAINST FIVE MORE SOCIAL CLUB MEN

Judge W. D. Howe, 24th district court, ruled Monday afternoon that the county attorney could not take up cases against so-called social clubs, except on the question as to whether proprietors of them were selling intoxicants. The ruling was delivered in connection with the issuance of temporary injunctions against Jim Crabtree, Pedro Alarado, John Doe Evans, Will Sutton and George Johnson, alleged to have been operating social clubs restraining them from operating until their cases are tried. The case against W. H. Stapleton was postponed.

PREFER TO GET TEXAS GUARD TO STRENGTH, THEN NEW UNITS

Recruiting for additional units for the Texas national guard has been ordered stopped by Adj. Gen. Henry Hatching, of Texas, according to a dispatch received by Dr. H. E. Stevenson, brigade adjutant. This has resulted from an effort of the war department to prevent the formation of volunteer organizations. Dr. Stevenson has been urged to recruit company K, with other existing Texas guard units to war strength.
